

Data Usage

The tables below provide a guide to how much data you may need, depending on what you do on your mobile service. You should also keep in mind how you've previously used data services.

Web Page Browsing and/or Accessing Email (Without Attachments)

Please note that web page browsing will vary depending on the web page you visit. More text and/or pictures on a page means more data is being used to view that page. Email size will change depending on the amount of content or attachments in the email.

How often would you do this?

Once every few days at most

Every day, but only a few web pages or email

I spend a lot of the time on the web each day

Downloading Apps

Before downloading applications you should always check the size of the app to make sure you don't exceed your included data limit.

How often would you download apps?

Less than 5 per month

5-15 per month

More than 15 per month (though will depend on total number of apps)

Video Clips

Before viewing video clips you should always check the size of the clip to make sure you don't exceed your included data limit. The longer the video clip, the larger it will be in size.

How often would you view video clips?

Once every week at most

Once every few days

A couple of clips each day

A lot of online video
